

Proportion of the total time where the machines drive at a certain distance between them

